

Castagnus – 30tabletek

CASTAGNUS 30 tablets

INDICATIONS

- disorders of the menstrual cycle (menstruation and the menstrual cycle caused by temporary or permanent insufficiency of the corpus luteum, manifested by excessive bleeding or too frequent additional bleeding in the cycle)
- premenstrual syndrome (that is, symptoms that occur shortly before the onset of menstruation with symptoms such as: soreness and swelling of the breasts (mastodynia), emotional imbalance, migraine-like headaches, swelling of the face, hands and feet).

ACTION

Castagnus® tablets, by stimulating dopaminergic receptors, reduce the level of prolactin secreted by the pituitary gland, and reduce the disorders caused by hyperprolactinemia: premenstrual syndrome and disorders of the menstrual cycle.

IMPORTANT

Do not use Castagnus® in case of hypersensitivity to any of the ingredients, do not use during pregnancy and breastfeeding.

Simultaneous administration of agents containing progesterone or gestagens (e.g. oral contraceptives) may increase the effect of the drug.

HOW TO USE

Orally, 1 tablet to adult women weighing up to 60 kg, and 2 tablets to women weighing more than 60 kg, in the morning, for 90 days.

COMPOSITION

Active substance: Agni casti fructus extractum siccum – 45 mg
(DER 7-13: 1, ethanol 60% m / m, native extract 10%, glucose 90%)

Excipients: lactose, potato starch, povidone, magnesium stearate.

Before use, read the leaflet, which contains indications, contraindications, data on side effects and dosage as well as information on the use of the medicinal product, or consult your doctor or pharmacist, as each drug used improperly is a threat to your life or health.